ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PROFESSIONAL TEACHING PRACTICES COMMISSION

INTRODUCTION

The Alaska State Professional Teaching Practices Commission (PTPC) submits its report for Fiscal Year 2025. This report cites the activities and services of the PTPC as authorized by Alaska Statutes, Title 14, Chapter 20, Article 5, entitled “The Professional Teaching Practices Act.” Since FY 2016 the PTPC has been funded by certification fees. This was per legislative intent and is in accordance with AS 14.20.500.

The Commission governs matters of ethical and professional standards of educators and their compliance with state law and contractual obligations.

This report contains a synopsis of activities of the Commission from July 1, 2024, through June 30, 2025. It is prepared on behalf of the Commission by the Executive Director, Melody Mann.

WHAT IS THE PROFESSIONAL TEACHING PRACTICES COMMISSION?

In 1966, the education profession in the State of Alaska was granted the right and responsibility to define and to enforce ethical standards of its members. The Alaska Legislature established and empowered a nine-member Commission to impose sanctions against the certificates of educators who engaged in illegal, immoral, or unethical conduct. The Professional Teaching Practices Commission is composed of five teachers, one superintendent, one principal, one representative of the Department of Education & Early Development, and one representative of higher learning. Constituent groups nominate candidates, and the governor appoints the Commissioners who are then subject to approval of the Legislature.

Commission staff investigates allegations of misconduct and partners with Department of Law to present cases to the Commission. As a quasi-judicial body, the Commission has the power to impose sanctions against the certificates of those found, by a preponderance of the evidence, to be in violation of the Code of Ethics of the Education Profession.

The Commission has jurisdiction over all certificated members of the education profession, including administrators, student teachers, and instructors in institutions of higher learning. The Commissions' order is final in disciplinary matters regarding a teacher. Before the certificate of an administrator is sanctioned, the Commissioner of the Department of Education & Early Development must concur. A final order of the Commission may be appealed to the Superior Court.

Educators are assigned the responsibility of caring for children and are placed in a position of public trust. Education is a profession that by its very nature stresses the value, worth, and dignity of all individuals. Educators are tasked with developing each student's potential, and as such, act as role models for students. It is essential, therefore, that educators sustain the highest degree of ethical conduct.

In their commitment to quality education, the members of the Professional Teaching Practices Commission hold their colleagues to the higher ethical standard that is demanded of a profession entrusted with the care and teaching of children.

DISCIPLINARY ACTION

Pursuant to Alaska Statutes 14.20.470, the PTPC has the power to:

1. Warn. A warning stipulates that the considered conduct is unethical, and if not corrected, a more serious sanction could be imposed. A warning is private communication with the educator; however, it is a matter of public record.
2. Reprimand. In the event of a reprimand, members of the education community are informed of the action, and record of the sanction is placed in the certification file. A reprimand is reported to the NASDTEC Clearinghouse for national distribution.
3. Suspend. In the event of a suspension, members of the education community are informed of the action. A suspension may include conditions which must be met before the certificate will be reinstated. A suspension means loss of a certificate for a specific period of time. A suspension is reported to the NASDTEC Clearinghouse for national distribution.
4. Revoke. In the event of a revocation, members of the education community are informed of the disciplinary action. Unless a certificate is revoked for life, an educator may reapply for a reinstatement in accordance with Alaska Statutes, at which time the Commission would review the case for another determination. A revocation is sent to the NASDTEC Clearinghouse for national distribution.

AS 14.20.030. Causes for Suspension or Revocation:

The Commissioner or the Professional Teaching Practices Commission may revoke or suspend a certificate for the following reasons:

- 1) Incompetency, which is defined as the inability or the unintentional or intentional failure to perform the teacher's customary teaching duties in a satisfactory manner;
- 2) Immorality, which is defined as the commission of an act which, under the laws of the state constitutes a crime involving moral turpitude;
- 3) Substantial noncompliance with the laws of the state or the regulations of the department; or
- 4) upon the determination by the Professional Teaching Practices Commission that there has been a violation of ethical or professional standards or contractual obligations.

COMPLAINTS

Complaints may be submitted to the Commission by members of the education profession or by the public. Notification by a state agency to the Professional Teaching Practices Commission that an educator has committed a crime may also result in action by the PTPC. Pursuant to 20 AAC 10.210(b): Unless the alleged act would be grounds for discipline under AS 14.20.030, the staff may not investigate school district personnel actions, including hiring, evaluation, transfer, reassignment, or dismissal of staff; or curriculum actions.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Complaints may be filed with the Commission by anyone. If the alleged action is a violation of the Code of Ethics of the Education Profession, the laws of the State of Alaska, or the Regulations of the Department of Education & Early Development, Commission staff investigates.

If there is sufficient evidence to indicate that a violation has occurred, an accusation is written, and a hearing is held before the Commission. During the hearing, an administrative law judge from the Office of Administrative Hearings presides. The hearing is held in accordance with the Alaska Administrative Procedure Act. All hearings are open to the public. There were no (0) Administrative Hearings this year. There was one mediated settlement conducted by an Administrative Law Judge.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEWS

Administrative Reviews are held to evaluate PTPC staff's decisions to dismiss a case. There were six (6) Administrative Reviews held this year. Five of six cases the Commission voted unanimously to uphold PTPC staff's decision to dismiss the cases. One case was overturned to be sanctioned. An Administrative Review can only be requested by the Complainant.

NATIONAL CLEARINGHOUSE

The National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) maintain a clearinghouse where disciplinary action higher than a warning against an educator in any state (also province in Canada, or U.S. territory) is recorded. This database is not accessible by the public. This database has recently been made available to school districts for a nominal fee.

INQUIRIES

Applications for Certification

PTPC staff reviewed one hundred thirteen (113) applications for certification in which there were state or federal fingerprint checks indicating criminal charges, or in which one of the character questions (background information) was checked "yes." This was a decrease of three (3) from last year. This includes initial, renewal/reinstatement, and student teaching applications. Fifty-eight (58) applicants divulged convictions (or other actions) on their applications and subsequently those applications were approved or required a brief follow-up with the applicant before being approved.

Fifty-five (55) applicants for certification failed to divulge past charges for criminal violations or action taken against their certificate in another state. Fifty-one (51) were not convicted. Of these, four (04) were convicted and did not divulge. The applicants were informed that all convictions must be divulged, and an explanation must be provided on any application, now or in the future, that requests that information, all four provided an explanation to match their criminal history and were cleared. This applies even if convictions have been set-aside, resulted in a suspended imposition of sentence, or were from many years ago. Failure to do so in the future could be considered willful misrepresentation and be a cause for revocation.

Inquiries from other states and Canada

PTPC staff responded to three (3) requests from other states for information regarding candidates for certification who reported that they have held, or do hold, an Alaska education certificate or who were listed on the NASDTEC Clearinghouse as having been sanctioned in Alaska.
